Statement of Philosophy for Intercollegiate Athletics

The athletics program at Wright State University is recognized as an integral part of the total educational process. The athletics program is designed to contribute to the total development of the student-athlete's health, fitness, skill, leadership, and respect for others.

Wright State University's intercollegiate athletic representatives are student-athletes, coaches and staff who are instructed on and dedicated to the principles of fair play and amateur competition as defined by the rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. It is the responsibility of the athletics administration and coaches to insure that the entire program is in full compliance with all pertinent rules and regulations.

Objectives of the intercollegiate athletics program at Wright State University are to:

1. provide a form of student activity which is generally accepted part of collegiate life.
2. provide opportunities for the development of unique skills and abilities to a diverse segment of the male and female student population.
3. provide the opportunity and motivation for participation in sports activities for a broad segment of the male and female student population.
4. provide a vehicle which is a recognized builder of morale and esprit de corps among students, staff, and alumni.
5. create an awareness of and support for Wright State University within the region, state and nation.
6. sponsor a breadth of programs which will provide student-athletes with the opportunity to compete on a local, regional, or national level. Within this objective, programs will be funded and expectations generated which will provide each program or individual with the opportunity to achieve success.
7. provide an environment in which the student-athlete will learn the value of fair play, the necessity of obeying rules and regulations, and the necessity to perform up to prescribed academic standards.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Bridgett Williams, Head Coach

To: All Prospective Student-Athletes

My name is Bridgett Williams, the head women's basketball coach here at Wright State University, and I would like to thank you for taking the time to view our media guide. Inside you will find pictures of my players and the staff, information on our campus and much more. This media guide was put together diligently by our sports information office for your viewing. We thank them for putting together a wonderful guide to Wright State Women's Basketball. We hope you enjoy it.

I would also like to share my vision for this program, which consists of four areas I work daily to improve:

Vision for the Program

Develop a program that fosters successful growth in the three-tier structure consisting of person, student and athlete through personal relationships, education and accountability for the complete experience as a student-athlete at Wright State University.

Vision for the Person

To help develop personal goals, work on them daily and see results of accomplishments yearly.

Vision for the Student

Earn the top three highest grade point averages in the athletic department

Have five or more players on the All-Academic Team (department and Horizon League)

To have each player complete their degree within four years

Vision for the Basketball Team

Horizon League Tournament Champions

Compete in the NCAA Tournament

I hope my philosophy matches what you are looking for in a program. If so, contact us, we would love to hear from you.

On behalf of my staff and I, best wishes to you, your team and your family. Have a great season!

Sincerely,

Bridgett Williams
Head Coach

Bridgett Williams Head Coach Fourth Year

Bridgett Williams enters her fourth season at Wright State and is in just her fifth year overall as a head coach.

Williams, though, already has many experiences in building a program from the ground up and in maintaining established, successful programs, and looks to use those experiences in continuing to build the Raider program.

Last season, Wright State hosted a league tournament game for the first time and won just its second post-season game ever as the Raiders defeated Youngstown State in overtime in the first round of the Horizon League Tournament.

During the 2002-03 campaign, WSU posted an 11-17 overall record, its best since 1995-96, and the 8-8 Horizon League mark was their best ever in conference play. Wright State also recorded its first-ever win over a ranked team as the Raiders defeated #16 UW-Green Bay 73-70 at the Nutter Center on January 25.

Named the fifth head coach in Raider history on June 4, 2001, Williams came to Wright State after being the head coach of Chicago State. In just two short seasons there, Williams made great strides with the Cougars, picking up 10 wins in 2001, the second-most in school history, after not winning a game the season before and totalling nine wins altogether over the previous seven years. Chicago State also set a school record during the 2000-01 season with eight home wins and the seven league wins were two more than the total earned by the team in Mid-Con play over the previous six seasons. Chicago State then capped things off by advancing to the second round of the Mid-Continent Conference Tournament for the first time ever. As a result, Williams was selected as the conference's Coach of the Year.

Away from the court, Williams also made an immediate impact as two Chicago State players were named to the Academic All-Conference Team last season and, in 2000, she conducted the first basketball camps sponsored by the women's basketball program in Chicago State's history.

Prior to arriving at Chicago State, Williams served as the recruiting coordinator at fellow Horizon League member UIC. She was instrumental in UIC's signing of a top 20 class in 1999. She was also an assistant coach at Kansas State University for two years, an assistant at the University of Wisconsin for two years, and an assistant at her alma mater, Southern Illinois-Carbondale, for two years.

During her tenure at Kansas State (1996-98), Williams's recruiting and coaching efforts contributed to the Wildcats' first NCAA tournament appearance in 10 years in 1997. She was also the academic liaison between the basketball staff and academic affairs office. She coordinated all academic activities of the team, and saw seven players earn grade point averages of 3.0 or better, with six players earning Academic All-Big 12 honors.

While at Wisconsin (1994-96), she worked under the tutelage of Jane Albright-Dieterle. She served as the assistant recruiting coordinator and formulated strategy that signed the No. 8 recruiting class in the nation in 1995. In part because of her efforts, Wisconsin had its first winning season in 10 years, received back-to-back NCAA tournament bids, and posted consecutive 20-win seasons.

Williams was a standout player for Southern Illinois-Carbondale from 1984-88. In her senior season, she was named her team's captain and most valuable player, Most Valuable Player of the Gateway Conference, Most Valuable Player of Women's Intercollegiate Athletics at SIU-Carbondale, and a Kodak All-America selection. The Salukis earned their first NCAA tournament appearance in 1986 and returned to the tournament in 1987. She was inducted into the Southern Illinois-Carbondale Athletic Hall of Fame in 1993.

Williams earned a bachelor of science in advanced technical studies in 1988, and a master of science in vocational educational studies/business education in 1991. Formerly Bridgett Bonds, she is married to Kevin Williams and they have a seven-year-old son, Brandon, and a three-year-old daughter, Kirsten.

Marlene Stollings Assistant Coach Second Year

Assistant coach Marlene Stollings is in just her second year on the Wright State coaching staff, but she brings a rich background to the Raiders as she has had extensive experience as both a player and coach at the Division I level.

Stollings came to WSU after serving as an assistant coach at New Mexico State for three seasons. During the 2001-02 season at New Mexico State, the Aggies set a NCAA record for three-pointers made in a game with 21 and finished second nationally in threes per game at 8.41. She also served as interim head coach for 12 games in 2002-03, posting a 9-3 record and leading the Aggies to first place in the Sun Belt Conference's West Division.

Prior to joining the New Mexico State staff, Stollings spent one season as an assistant at Jacksonville University, where the Dolphins set school records for overall and conference wins along with conference finish.

Before joining the Jacksonville coaching staff, she played one year of professional basketball with Club Abb Baden of Baden, Switzerland. After returning from overseas, she was invited and participated in the 1999 training camp for the Utah Starzz of the WNBA.

Joining the Wright State staff was a homecoming of sorts for Stollings as her prep and collegiate playing career both took place here in the Buckeye State. She played at Ohio State as a freshman and sophomore before transferring to Ohio University for the 1996-97 season where she completed her eligibility the following year.

As a senior at Ohio in 1997-98, Stollings was voted team captain by her teammates. She earned first-team All-Mid-American Conference honors after finishing ninth in the nation and leading the league in scoring (22.9 ppg). Against Robert Morris on December 30, 1997, Stollings set a Bobcat record with 41 points and also hit a school-record 10 three-point baskets. Stollings also helped the Bobcats set a school record with seven consecutive wins en route to a 17-11 mark during the 1997-98 season. She also earned honorable mention Kodak All-America honors.

Stollings had an outstanding prep career at Beaver Eastern High School, finishing as the leading scorer in the history of Ohio high school basketball, boys or girls, with 3,514 points. As a senior, Stollings was named Ohio's Miss Basketball and was presented a resolution by both the Ohio Senate and House of Representatives for her academic and athletic achievement. Her 1,022 points that year is the second-highest single-season scoring total in state history for girls basketball. In her honor, February 19, 1993, was declared Marlene Stollings' Day in Pike County and, earlier this year, she was inducted in the Ohio Girls Basketball Magazine Hall of Fame.

Off the court, Stollings was a two-time Scholar Athlete at Ohio State in 1994-95, while earning Ohio University Alumni Scholar Athlete Citation and Dean's List honors in 1996. Stollings earned a B.A. in marketing and a B.S. in sport industry from Ohio University in 1998.

Strength and Conditioning

The Wright State women's basketball team participates in a closely supervised and scientifically designed, year-round strength and conditioning program designed to improve the overall athleticism of each individual player. The Raider program uses strength training, medicine balls, plyometrics, agility drills, and footwork drills to increase each athlete's strength, power, footwork, agility, jumping ability, and basketball-specific conditioning. By participating in this program, the athletes are also much less likely to get injured, and if they are injured, the recovery time is shortened.

A battery of tests are used to measure each player's improvement. Each athlete is tested at the start of the season, prior to the season, after the season and at the end of the school year.

With a special conditioning program set up for each student-athlete, the Raiders can use the extra strength in various ways on the court.

Erick Schork, MA, CSCS, is in his second year as the Director of Strength and Conditioning for the Wright State Raiders. He comes to Wright State University from The Ohio State University where he served as an Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach since 1997.

Schork earned his undergraduate degree from Springfield College, (Springfield, Mass), in 1995, and a master's degree in exercise physiology from Western Michigan University in 1997. He served as a graduate assistant while attending WMU from 1995-1997. After graduation, Schork worked with the Buffalo Bills of the NFL in 1997.

Schork is a member of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association, and is certified in First Aid and CPR by the American Red Cross. In his time as a Certified Strength and Conditioning Coach, Schork has worked with a number of professional hockey, football, and baseball players, and also trained Olympic athletes.

t Wright State University, we believe the only way to stay ahead of a rapidly evolving world is to be equally relentless about exploring innovations, approaches, and possibilities—anticipating what it will take for our students to succeed tomorrow, next year, and for years to come.

Propelled by the dual imperatives of community partnership and intellectual innovation, Wright State is a remarkable place. Our ability to effectively respond to the ever-changing needs of industry and society is evidenced by a record of success in educating over 72,000 alumni who proudly claim Wright State University as their alma mater.

Those alumni are dynamic leaders in their fields. They are judges, engineers, bankers, and artists. They are changing the way the global economy operates, educating our nation's youth, exploring new medical technologies that are saving lives, and much more.

Like the alumni included in these pages, each Wright State graduate has left an indelible mark on the university. When you are a Wright State graduate, you're among a select group of individuals who are transforming the world through leadership and service to their community. Academics

Academic Support Services

Wright State is proud of the academic accomplishments of its athletes. Last year, WSU student-athletes posted an average GPA of 3.0 all three quarters and the men's basketball team had a GPA of 2.9.

The athletics department staff includes an academic advisor, whose primary responsibility is advising and counseling approximately 260 WSU athletes. The advisor is here to help you do your best as a student-athlete.

The advisor:

- knows the courses required
- knows the faculty and instructors for your courses
- may communicate with faculty, staff, and other advisors on your behalf
- respects your interests
- helps you to choose a major
- encourages you to plan and think about the future.

Academic Reporting

During the year, the academic advisor meets with student-athletes on a regular basis to track their accomplishments. Men's basketball players are assigned an assistant coach who meets with them once a week to talk about classes. At the end of the academic year, the advisor completes an annual report on the academic progress of all student-athletes. This report is given to the coaches and the athletic director.

Working With Faculty and Staff

The athletic advisor also serves as a liaison between Wright State's athletics and academic communities, coordinating your interests with those of faculty and university staff. The advisor tries to establish a personal rapport with your instructors, learning their point of view, and ensuring that you stay focused on educational as well as athletic objectives.

Resources for Student-Athletes

Wright State has a Student-Athletics Resource Center located in the basement of Rike Hall. The center includes computers as well as other research materials, and it is staffed by a member of the athletics department's academic advising office. Specialized tutoring can be arranged through the office to help you get through tough assignments. Your coaches will also take an active interest in your education. They may meet with you privately to discuss your academic career, and they provide study table time during road trips.

Innovation Is in the Air

A rich and dynamic community of nearly 17,000 students, Wright State is a place where tomorrow takes flight. has been and how great it was to stay in new, modernly equipped rooms that have all the comforts of home. You'll find nice furniture, cable TV, air-conditioning, and Internet hook-ups. Plus, all students—even first-year students—may have a car on campus.

Community Partnerships Offer Real-World Experience

Wright State provides its students with unique opportunities to help solve real-world problems by addressing the educational, cultural, social, and economic needs of the Miami Valley. Students obtain relevant hands-on learning experiences through the university's link to area corporations, community programs, health and social service agencies, and government organizations. This blending of academia with the larger community provides benefits for both.

Student Life at Wright State

Wright State has a diverse mixture of students with various educational goals and interests. The majority of our students, 76 percent or about 13,000, are undergraduates, and of those, about 11,200 are full time. Although the majority of these students come from southwestern Ohio, many also come from other parts of Ohio, from almost every state in the nation, and from 69 other countries.

Nearly 3,000 students live in campus housing, in either traditional dormitory-style rooms, suite-style rooms, or apartments, all offering direct Internet connections. Nearly 1,300 freshman students chose to live on campus in fall 2003.

Regardless of background and career goals, our students provide the basis for a campus rich in cultural and intellectual diversity.

Both commuting and residential students make for an active campus life. Over 150 student clubs and organizations provide recreational, professional, and entertainment activities. Also popular are the university's two theatres and concert halls, and the Student Union, which has extensive recreational facilities, including a fitness center, a small gymnasium, racquetball and squash courts, and an olympic-size indoor pool.

Wright State students have distinguished themselves academically, both on the state and national level. For example, Wright State students compete with 200 colleges and universities from 15 different countries that debate each year at the Model United Nations program held in New York City, and now hold the longest winning streak on record of 25 years. The Ohio Society of Professional

Honors dorms

Engineers awarded our student team first place in a statewide senior design showcase.

In recognition of its innovations in teaching and research, the Department of Mathematics and Statistics has received Academic Challenge Grants from the Ohio Board of Regents and highly selective external funding awards from the National Science Foundation and other federal agencies. In addition, undergraduate students in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics compete each year in the William Lowell Putnam Mathematical Competition.

The student is the focus of attention at Wright State University. Although Wright State students do not easily fall into specific categories, all are valued for their unique talents and contributions. In a supportive learning environment, Wright State faculty challenge their students, encouraging them to realize their potential, to reach their goals, and to fulfill their dreams. As a result, Wright State continues to attract achievement-oriented students who are eager to learn.

Librarians also offer group instruction through a series of regularly offered workshops on topics ranging from basic research introduction to advanced searching of Web resources and specialized databases.

As a partial U.S. government documents depository, the library provides students and the general public with access to electronic and print documents, including over 30,000 geographical and topographical maps from all over the United States. The Libraries are also a designated Patent and Trademark Depository Library with collection materials accessible in the Dunbar Library.

Special Collections and Archives houses collections on aviation history, Wright State University history, and one of the most extensive collections of Wright brothers materials, including more than 4,000 original photographs made by the Wrights to document their achievements.

Computer Resources

Computing and Telecommunications Services (CaTS) provides service and support for university telephones, campus networking, Internet access, and administrative and student computing resources. Wright State students are encouraged to use these resources to enhance their learning experience. CaTS maintains computer labs (most open 24 hours) with computers networked to international resources, laser printers, and numerous software applications to complement students' classroom activities. The computers in these labs not only provide desktop applications, but also provide access to larger computer platforms, such as our UNIX system, the University Libraries databases, and other Internet resources. Wright State has a strong commitment to providing accessibility to all students. In support of this commitment, a variety of adaptive technologies are available to provide computer access to students with physical disabilities.

All students should obtain a CaTS CAMPUS account. The CAMPUS account provides them with the account name and password necessary to access the Internet, e-mail, and other computing resources. Accounts also provide personal and class disk space on the network file servers. With their CAMPUS account and a Web browser, students can access the Internet from home using the CaTS modem banks. Student accounts remain active only as long as they are enrolled in classes.

Career Services

The central purpose of Career Services is to help students prepare for academic and career success. Freshmen and sophomores are assisted with career assessment, values clarification, and occupational data to help them make informed choices of academic majors. Students are also provided opportunities for experiential learning (internships) and discovering the relationship of skills acquired to the broader work world. Career Services helps prepare graduating seniors to be successful candidates by helping them translate their academic and co-curricular experiences into successful job campaigns or graduate school applications.

Specific services include: a computerized career exploration program, Choices; an interest inventory, the Self-Directed Search; a personality assessment, the MBTI; a web resume registration, UNCW Experience; internship resources; workshops on a wide range of topics from choosing an academic major to job search strategies; a career resource library; job listings for both part-time and full-time, including internships; on-campus recruiting; annual events such as Career Day, Education Job Fair, Internship-Summer Job Fair, and Graduate School Day; and a home page on the World Wide Web with a directory of helpful career and employment sites.

Career Services is located in the University Union in rooms 104 and 106, open 8 a.m.–5 p.m. Monday–Friday with special drop-in hours on Mondays and Thursdays, 2–5 p.m. for students who have quick questions about resumes, job searching, cover letters, and more. Currently enrolled UNCW students are eligible for all services.

Career Resources Center

The Career Resources Center (CRC), located in E334 Student Union, serves as a valuable source of information for people seeking career, job search, and employer information including job postings. In addition, computers are available for career related internet searches and to develop personal marketing tools.

SIGI Plus (System of Interactive Guidance and Information), a computerized application, allows users to assess interests, abilities, and values to determine what occupations might be a good fit. The most frequently used option on SIGI Plus is the Information Module. A user can find information on career projections, required academic preparation, job definition and descriptions, and salary. Please allow at least 90 minutes to assess and explore options. Less time is required for a search of specialized information.

Browse the complete bibliography of print materials available for use in the Center. Resources are categorized to assist you in locating the materials needed. Categories include Job Search, Directories, Career Exploration, Experiential Education (Co-op Ed/Internships), Transition to the Workplace, Graduate School and specialized career information by college and major.

Employer Literature is found alphabetically in binders or files within the Center. Use these sources to locate basic information about a particular employer, such as services or products, reputation, growth pattern, divisions, subsidiaries, new products, and annual reports. Career Services recommends that you also use the Internet and other resources, such as networking, to identify and review company information.

Cooperative Education and Internship Programs

Provide educational opportunities consistent with a student's course of study. Opportunities may be full-time or part time. Completing one or more quarters of field experience keeps a student competitive when it is time to search for career employment. Employers seek candidates with backgrounds in practical application of their discipline. Stay current and competitive through co-op and internship programs consistent with your course of study.

Career Employment

Career-related employment provides opportunities for students looking ahead to graduation and for alumni interested in changing jobs or switching careers. Recruiters begin evaluating candidates as much as nine months prior to graduation. Career Services offers appointments, résumé reviews, mock interviews, career days and fairs, résumé postings, job postings, on-campus interviews, and Spring Training to assist with your career employment.

Cooperative Education/Internship

Co-ops and internships are field-related experiences for upper level students. In both cases, employers provide on-site supervision and opportunities for integrating academic theory with real-world practices. The co-op experience traditionally lasts more than one quarter. Co-op program structures include alternating, where students work full-time and alternate quarters of work with quarters of study; and parallel, where students work part-time and simultaneously continue their academic study. Internships are filled on a quarter by quarter basis. Both types of employment may be either full- or part-time. A paid position yields a larger, more diverse pool of qualified candidates than a position with no compensation.

The Mills Morgan Center and Setzer Pavilion

The Mills Morgan Center and Setzer Pavilion are scheduled to be completed by the Spring of 2005. This state of the art facility will put Wright State on a plateau that is equal to the major Division I programs around the country. Combined with our academic program excellence, Wright State will be at the highest echelon of the Horizon League and have the facilities to develop blue-chip student-athletes.

The new training venue will house nearly 3,000 square feet, including a gymnasium, strength and conditioning room, and coaches offices as well as locker rooms, video rooms, and player lounges.

Wright State University is committed to national prominence in both academics and athletics and this facility will only enhance that commitment.

"A basketball training center of this magnitude will greatly enhance our recruiting efforts and provide our student-athletes with the best facilities in the conference, Williams said. Coupled with the Nutter Center, will now have practice and game facilities that will allow us to compete nationally."

The Nutter Center

There's no place like home. And there's no place quite like the Nutter Center, home to the Wright State Raiders.

The Nutter Center, Southwest Ohio's premier sports and entertainment complex, is home to the Wright State men's and women's basketball teams, as well as the Wright State women's volleyball team.

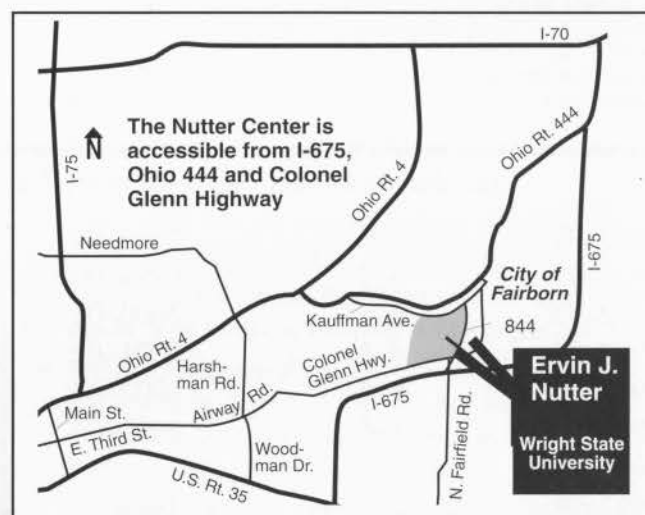

Set on the beautiful campus of Wright State University, the Nutter Center Arena seats up to 11,500 people. Housed within the building are four additional basketball courts, a recreational running track, a fully equipped fitness center, a multipurpose room, dressing rooms, classrooms, and 60,000 square feet of exhibition space.

Just 14 years old, the Nutter Center's standard of excellence has been acknowledged worldwide. Industry Publications has ranked the Nutter Center one of the top 20 arenas of its size in the country every year since it opened. The Nutter Center has remained one of the premier stopping points for major concert tours of every musical genre, the finest family shows, and top-touring ice shows including Elton John, KISS, Cher, Tina Turner, Guns 'N' Roses, Neil Diamond, Creed, Barry Manilow, Phish, Garth Brooks, Reba McEntire, Rod Stewart, Frank Sinatra, Alan Jackson, Aerosmith, Champions on Ice, Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, Disney on Ice, WWE, Bow Wow, and many more. The Nutter Center is also home to the ECHL Dayton Bombers. There's almost always something happening at the Nutter Center—there's an event booked, on average, 280 days a year.

All in all, the Nutter Center has consistently ranked among the top 10 grossing venues in the country since its opening in 1990. Since 1996, the arena ranked third in the world in ticket sales for arenas its size.

No wonder the center has averaged over one million visitors a year since it opened.

The Miami Valley

A Vibrant Community on the Move

The Dayton area is rich in cultural offerings including the performing arts, historical parks, museums, cultural festivals and community celebrations. The university is located close to a wide array of restaurants and stores, with the region's largest shopping mall about a mile from the campus. A popular river corridor along the Great Miami River offers 26 scenic miles of walking, jogging, and cycling trails.

The city of Dayton is a city of innovation. From the Wright brothers' first airplane to Charles F. Kettering's first self-starting automobile ignition system to the cash register and automated teller machine, Dayton has a rich heritage of invention and innovation.

Dayton has been the home for other notable Americans as well, including the poet Paul Laurence Dunbar and candy creator Esther Price. Phil Donahue and Erma Bombeck once lived across the street from one another in a Dayton suburb.

Dayton

The Value of Variety

Dayton has flourished from a firm foundation of innovation and industrial expertise. Inventions from Dayton—including powered flight, the cash register, and countless others in the automotive and aerospace industries have built a strong core for the region's economy.

Today's healthy local economy is more diversified, fueled by a mixture of companies of many sizes and industries. This diversity is more important since it provides economic stability and prevents overreliance on any single sector.

A century ago, small businesses and entrepreneurs put Dayton on the map, and they remain a high priority to this day. The region is bustling with momentum with more than 19,000 new business start-ups from 1996–2001. Local business and community leaders are committed to supporting entrepreneurs and nurturing new businesses through mentoring, technical assistance, and innovative programs such as the Entrepreneurs Center, a downtown-based technology incubator.

Workforce: Dayton Trains its Own

Dayton works proactively to provide programs that ensure a skilled workforce, particularly for specialized technical positions. Local officials promote the continuous training of local workers in addition to supporting the outside recruitment efforts of area technology workforce. Additionally, Dayton recently ranked fifth among medium-sized cities on the Creativity Index created through Richard Florida's research into the "Creative Class."

A Dynamic New Downtown

Thanks to this community's great visionaries and energetic workers, downtown Dayton is reinventing itself in grand style. Developments such as the Schuster Performing Arts Center, Dayton Dragons baseball, and RiverScape have sparked a new wave of interest and investment in the central business district.

In 2002, some 500 employees moved into the new corporate headquarters of Relizon in downtown Dayton. The five-story office building and parking garage occupy a site that formerly was a vacant department store.

Also downtown, the urge for urban living is being satisfied with the development of several new residential loft projects, especially appealing to young professionals and empty-nesters. With hundreds of new residents pouring in, downtown continues to add new restaurants, night clubs, and other attractions to cater to these new urbanites.

From History's Success to Today's Strength

Dayton's business composition has evolved with the times. While manufacturing continues to play a key role, comprising 18 percent of the region's total employment, the services industry employs 32 percent of the workforce and the retail and wholesale trade industry employs 23 percent. Over time, the area has developed core competencies in aerospace, information technology, composite materials, automotive manufacturing, advanced manufacturing, and logistics.

Dayton's skyline illuminated at night

Aerospace—The influence of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base on the Dayton area economy is far-reaching and profound. As the foremost research and development center of the United States Air Force, Wright-Patterson has been responsible for nearly every major innovation in U.S. military aviation. The base has truly been a catalyst for high-tech growth in the region.

The facility has a $2.4 billion annual economic impact on the region, employing 18,000 people, including some 10,000 civilians. In addition, some 19,000 jobs are provided through subcontracting and supply. The base has contributed to the Dayton region's position as one of the nation's largest concentrations of engineering talent.

In addition, several regional organizations facilitate technology transfer between Wright-Patterson and the private sector to maximize the benefits of defense-related research and development.

The aviation legacy is also evident in the private sector. The Dayton region is home to Goodrich Corporation's Division Headquarters for aircraft wheels and brakes and other leading aerospace providers such as Hartzell Propeller. Also, GE Jet Aircraft Engines is located just south on I-75. These operations have encouraged the creation of many firms that supply the commercial-aircraft industry.

Information technology—With the influence of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton has developed a substantial foundation of high-tech capabilities, especially in areas associated with the aerospace and defense industries. The Dayton region is home to more than 800 IT organizations and recently ranked in the top 20 among U.S. metropolitan areas in IT job growth, according to IT CareerWorld, an industry publication.

The Wright brothers and their flyer

In addition to the niches represented by its many smaller companies, Dayton's bellwether technology companies—LexisNexis, Reynolds and Reynolds, Standard Register, and NCR Corporation—are pacing their industries with continuous innovation.

Composite materials—When the U.S. Air Force needed a material lighter, but stronger, than steel, it turned to the Air Force Research Laboratory at Wright-Patterson. The result? Composite materials, the combination of fiber and resin. And while the Air Force fulfilled defense needs, the commercial applications became evident for products ranging from appliances to golf carts.

The only obstacle has been cost: composites are prohibitively expensive for an individual company. Undaunted, Daytonians arrived at a solution: the National Composite Center, an organization that helps to develop composite-processing techniques for commercial applications.

Automotive—The Dayton area has a rich tradition in automotive manufacturing, starting with the pioneering efforts of individuals such as Charles F. Kettering, founder of Delco. General Motors acquired Delco and subsequently located state-of-the-art laboratories and research facilities in Dayton.

In 1999, General Motors spun off the Delco company, renamed Delphi Automotive Systems, allowing Delphi to expand its business by supplying products—including chassis, thermal, energy and engine management, electrical and electronic systems—to other automakers in the international marketplace.

In addition to the 10,200 people employed at Delphi, GM employs 4,300 in the Dayton area assembling sport utility vehicles and engines. International Truck & Engine in Springfield employs 2,500. Behr America, with a major facility in Dayton, boasts a workforce of 2,400. And DMAX, a joint venture between GM and Isuzu, manufactures its award-winning diesel engine here. These large-scale automotive operations have spurred the growth of many small- to medium-sized suppliers in the Dayton region.

Advanced manufacturing—The manufacturing industry's rise to dominance in the region's economy during the 20th century created unparalleled opportunities. Today, Dayton is home to more than 26,000 skilled workers in 850 tooling, machining and related companies. In fact, the 12-county area around Dayton is North America's fourth largest tooling and machining hub.

Like most other industries, today's tooling and machining has gone high-tech. Highly-trained workers are developing new products by integrating technical manufacturing processes, microelectronics, robotics, and sophisticated automation. Local leaders have launched the Tool Valley Network, an entity that provides training and services for the area's tool and die companies.

Logistics—Five metropolitan statistical areas and more than 300 cities, towns, and villages lie within 90 minutes of Dayton. This, coupled with Dayton's ideal location at the I-70/75 intersection, has encouraged the growth of many trucking operations, warehouse facilities, and logistic-support services. In fact, the region boasts more than 650 firms in the transportation and warehousing industry.

The Dayton International Airport is just a few minutes from the I-70/75 intersection. The region's 90-minute air market ranks first nationally with more than 50 percent of the country's population and over 50 percent of the country's income within 90 minutes of Dayton by air. The airport offers more than 85 passenger flights a day with nonstop service to 17 major domestic markets, carrying 2 million passengers annually.

Horizon League Championship

New Horizon League Championship Format Implemented for 2005

The Horizon League Executive Council passed a proposal to change the Women's Basketball Championship format. The new format will move the championship from a single predetermined site to multiple sites and will go into effect immediately.

The first round game and the quarterfinal games will be played on campus sites. In the first round game, the No. 8 seed will host the No. 9 seed. The winner of that game will travel to the No. 1 seed for the quarterfinals. The No. 4 seed will host the No. 5 seed, the No. 3 seed will host the No. 6 seed and the No. 2 seed will host the No. 7 seed in the other quarterfinal games.

Under the pure format the remaining four teams will travel to the site of the highest remaining seed for the semifinal and championship games. However, the format change will not go into full effect until the 2007 championship, allowing Wright State (2005) and Youngstown State (2006) the opportunity to fulfill their right to host the championship.

During the 2005 and 2006 championships, the semifinal and championship games will be played at the predetermined site if the host team advances past the quarterfinals. If the host team loses in the first round or quarterfinal games, the semifinal and championship games would be played at the site of the highest remaining seed.

The Executive Council also passed an amendment to change the day of the semifinal games to Sunday and the championship game to Monday. Those games were previously played on Saturday and Sunday.

The 2005 Horizon League women's basketball championship will begin Tuesday, March 1 with the first round game followed by the quarterfinal games on Thursday, March 3. The semifinal games are slated for Sunday, March 6 and the championship game will be played on Monday, March 7.

HISTORY

Horizon League

The Horizon League, now in its 26th year, is continually raising its sights in an effort to become one of the nation's leading athletic conferences, one that is building upon the success of its citizen-athletes both on the playing field and in the classroom. An organization that regards athletics as an integral part of the educational process, the Horizon League features a strong foundation of both public and private institutions that have a storied tradition of broad-based athletic programs. The impressive list includes: Butler University, Cleveland State University, the University of Detroit Mercy, the University of Illinois at Chicago, Loyola University Chicago, the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Wright State University and Youngstown State University. These institutions are led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on academic integrity, sportsmanship and personal involvement in the community.

On June 4, 2001, the Horizon League changed its name from the Midwestern Collegiate Conference. The Horizon League name and innovative logo have ushered in a new dynamic image, one whose primary focus remains on its student-athletes, particularly with regard to its four platforms: athletic performance, academic achievement, community outreach, and personal responsibility and accountability. It is the Horizon League's belief that athletics is a powerful visible resource through which public trust in higher education can be restored and the challenges facing the nation can be addressed. It is the plainly stated goal of the Horizon League to enhance the holistic university experience for the student-athlete, to create an affiliation of institutions with similar athletic goals, and to adhere to the principles of integrity, diversity, excellence and growth.

The Horizon League, whose office is located at the Pan American Plaza in Indianapolis, has also established specific goals that look to upgrade the league's market and competitive position with an eye toward continually enhancing the student-athlete experience. The League is committed to engage both its staff and member-institution administrators and students to serve on national-level committees. As an example, Horizon League Commissioner Jonathan LeCrone has recently been appointed to the prestigious NCAA Men's Basketball Committee. One of only 10 members to sit on the committee, he has been appointed to a five-year term. This appointment will serve as a wonderful opportunity to raise the visibility of the Horizon League and that of its member schools.

The Horizon League is well-equipped to handle its heightened visibility. Horizon League media markets, including five of the nation's top 30 in Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Indianapolis and Milwaukee, cover more than nine million television households and encompass nine percent of the country's television audience. The member institutions are generally located in vibrant major metropolitan areas and benefit from the business, cultural, educational and entertainment resources available to the university community.

While Horizon League schools have certainly benefited from increased exposure in their own geographic region, the unprecedented recent success of Horizon

League athletic teams on a national stage has heightened the visibility of the League and its member schools and has quickly moved the Horizon League closer to its stated goal of becoming one of the nation's top 10 athletic leagues. In 2002-03, in addition to its automatic berth in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, the Horizon League also earned an at-large berth and took advantage of its opportunity as Butler advanced to the Sweet 16 with victories over Mississippi State and Louisville. UW-Milwaukee, the recipient of the Horizon League's automatic berth, was one-point shy of upsetting 5th-seeded Notre Dame in the first round. On the women's side, UW-Green Bay carried the Horizon League banner into the NCAA Tournament and defeated Pac-10 representative Washington in the first round before pushing highly regarded LSU wire-to-wire in the second round of the tournament.

In men's soccer, UW-Milwaukee advanced to the second round of the 2002 and 2003 NCAA Tournament before falling to eventual College Cup participant Creighton in '02 and Notre Dame in '03. UIC earned the Horizon League's automatic berth to the 2004 NCAA Tournament in softball and earned victories over Bowling Green, #4 Notre Dame and #10 Tennessee before falling to #22 Oregon State in the regional semifinals. addition, Horizon League baseball, volleyball, tennis, swimming and diving, and track and field programs have become competitive with many of the nation's top teams.

Originally founded in 1979 as the Midwestern City Conference, the League was a men's-only sports conference until the 1986-87 season when it added women's athletics. The Horizon League currently offers a total of 19 championships (nine men's sports and 10 women's sports). The League enjoys NCAA automatic qualification in baseball, men's basketball, women's basketball, men's golf, men's soccer, women's soccer, softball, men's tennis, women's tennis and women's volleyball.

Associate Commissioner

Success by Horizon League schools in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament has become a rite of spring over the past decade. In 2001, Butler defeated Wake Forest in the first round, one year after dropping an overtime decision to eventual NCAA finalist Florida. In 1999, Detroit upset UCLA in the first round, one year after the Titans had recorded a first-round victory over St. John's.

In addition to individual team success in the NCAA Tournament, the Horizon League also has a rich tradition of hosting the men's NCAA Division I Basketball Tournament in Indianapolis. As a co-host with Butler University, the League's resume includes hosting the Men's Final Four in 1991, 1997 and 2000. In addition, it has hosted the First- and Second-Rounds in 1987, 1990, 1993, 1996, 1999 and 2003. The League and Butler will host the Women's Final Four for the first time in 2005, in addition to the NCAA Men's Basketball First- and Second-Rounds. The Women's Final Four returns in 2011 while the Men's Final Four returns to Indianapolis in 2006 and 2010. In 2009, league member Detroit will host the Final Four at Ford Field. In 2005, Cleveland State will host first- and second-round games.

In addition to its on-field and on-court success, the Horizon League has secured a well-earned reputation for its community service initiatives. The Horizon League expects its student-athletes to serve fellow students, respective institutions, and their communities. Working with student-athletes at its member schools, the Horizon League is implementing a Stay in Bounds service initiative. First developed by the NCAA, the Stay in Bounds program is "a character-development initiative administered by the NCAA Hall of Champions on behalf of the "Citizenship Through Sports Sports Alliance." In 2003, the nine member schools of the Horizon League chose Special Olympics as a partner for the League's "National Day of Service." On each Horizon League campus, student-athletes managed and participated in various events, clinics, and competitions to benefit local Special Olympic athletes. On Martin Luther King Day 2004, the Horizon League celebrated with a basketball game between Cleveland State and Detroit, both of whom have African-American head coaches.

The Horizon League is proud of its heritage, its direction, its institutions, and most of all, its student-athletes. It believes these young men and women will continue to play a significant role in articulating "what's right" about intercollegiate athletics.

Media Services

The 2004-05 media guide is designed to assist your coverage of the Wright State University men's basketball team. Additional information is available by contacting the sports information office at (937) 775-2831.

Credentials

Season credentials will be issued to local reporters, columnists, etc. prior to the first game. If you have not received a season pass in the past, you must contact the sports information office. Game-by-game passes will be issued by as-needed situations, depending on available space. These passes must be requested at least three days in advance of the game and will be distributed at entrance #9 off parking lot #5.

Parking

Season parking passes will be distributed to local media prior to the first game. Press parking will be in parking lot #5 until filled. Individual requests must be made at least five days in advance.

Interviews

Interviews during the week must be arranged through the SID office or with the basketball office. Media may come to practice and talk to players before or after practice but may not contact student-athletes outside these times or outside pre-arranged times. Home phone numbers will not be given out. Coach Williams can be reached Monday through Friday in the morning at (937) 775-2771.

Practices

Coach Williams will generally conduct open practices, and media members are encouraged to observe. Practice time is normally 1-3 p.m. Wright State reserves the right to close any practice.

Photographers

Passes will be handled same as above. Still and video photographers are limited to work the end lines as designated or the concourse level. Visiting teams will be supplied one video copy of the game. Team videographers may tape the game from the platforms on the concourse level if space permits.

Radio

Permission to broadcast games from the Nutter Center must be granted from the SID office a week in advance of the game. Under reciprocal agreements, the official radio station of the home and visiting teams will receive up to two phone lines. Additional lines or unofficial outlets may purchase phone lines for $75 each if available. Each radio station will receive broadcast space for two.

Phone Lines

Phone lines at court side and in the press room have been set up for collect or reverse charges only.

Television

All requests to televise Wright State University basketball must be made in writing before the season and should be directed to Assistant Athletics Director/Sports Information Director Bob Noss.

Greg Gahris Memorial Press Room

Named for the late Greg Gahris—The Voice of the Raiders for 15 years—the Greg Gahris Memorial Press Room is located on the court level just outside the open end of the arena. Counter space, electric and phone lines will be available as well as stats, notes and score sheets.

Services

Statistics, notes and refreshments will be available in the press room before the game. A copy machine is located in the press room, and a fax machine is located on the third floor in the SID office. Stats monitors will be supplied to official radio and television outlets and then to unofficial outlets when available.
